Defining the HMA

Defining the three stage Central Norfolk HMA

- 1.1 This study builds on the work undertaken in Central Norfolk SHMA 2015 which identified a three stage Central Norfolk HMA. Each level of geography is reported in this study. The Central Norfolk SHMA 2015 included a detailed analysis of the Housing Market Areas. The conclusions of the 2015 study are included below as a summary of the analysis, while the full study can be viewed on the local authority and other websites<sup>1</sup>:
- 1.2 “It is clear that all of the evidence considered suggests that there is a three stage Central Norfolk Housing Market Area:
- » The Core Market Area;
  - » Greater Norwich;
  - » Central Norfolk HMA.
- 1.3 In considering the Norwich Core HMA identified by the SHMA, we have established that, of those residents moving house without changing employment (i.e. moves of up to 40km):
- » 85% of movers currently living in the HMA moved from another address inside the HMA; and
  - » 85% of movers that previously lived in the HMA stayed in the HMA;
  - » 85% of people that work in the HMA also live in the HMA; and
  - » 77% of workers that live in the HMA also work in the HMA.
- 1.4 On this basis, it is possible to conclude that the Norwich Core HMA can itself be considered a self-contained functional housing market area. Nevertheless, none of the other settlements in the surrounding area are sufficiently self-contained to establish separate functional housing market areas; they each have well-established links with the Norwich Core HMA (in terms of both migration and travel to work). Therefore, given the available evidence, we would conclude that the actual HMA is a geographically larger area.
- 1.5 When considering the Central Norfolk HMA identified by the SHMA, we have established that, of those residents moving house without changing employment (i.e. moves of up to 40km):
- » 93% of movers currently living in the HMA moved from another address inside the HMA; and
  - » 94% of movers that previously lived in the HMA stayed in the HMA;
  - » 88% of people that work in the HMA also live in the HMA; and
  - » 91% of workers that live in the HMA also work in the HMA.
- 1.6 Although the evidence shows that a HMA based on the three Greater Norwich Partnership member authorities would satisfy the requirements of the definition for a functional housing market area, our analysis has concluded that the 'Central Norfolk' HMA also includes significant parts of both Breckland and North Norfolk districts. This conclusion is supported by the relative alignment between the HMA analysis and with other, external studies (CURDS and BRMA).

- 1.7 In conclusion, therefore, we consider the expanded Central Norfolk Housing Market Area to be supported by the evidence and able to withstand external scrutiny."

Geographic Basis of the Core and Central Norfolk HMA

- 1.8 The HMAs were defined using 2011 Output Areas as the lowest possible unit of definition. The OAs defining the Core and Central Norfolk HMA are shown in the table below.
