

From: Gary Hayes
Sent: 26 October 2011 08:27
To: Jonathan Pyle
Subject: RE: C I L levy

Jonathan,

In simple terms I comment as follows:-

The levy rates are absolutely ridiculous which if applied to say a site which we are preparing to develop in South Norfolk will make the scheme non-viable.

You should be introducing scheme to cultivate and assist the development market because if we don't start to seeing growth in this area soon the uk economy will undoubtedly start the decline into the second dip of recession.

The timing of this scheme is probably the worst you could have picked with the property prices on the decline and development of new homes at an all time low are you trying to kill the building industry off completely!

Regards
Gary Hayes
willow builders